Yellow Hand Wins Pelham Bay Handicap, Defeating Thunderclap in Spectacular Race Knobbie Loses To 8-to-1 Shot In the Ramapo

Knight of the Heather Shows Consistent Form and Adds to Many Upsets of Day

Caarles A. Stoneham's consistent Yellow Hand galloped home an easy winner of the Pelham Bay Handicap, the chief attraction of an excellent card at Empire yesterday. The Rancocas Stable's Thunderclap finished econd and the Xalapa Farm's Bon Homme took down the short end of

Up to the last furlong the race was one of the most spectacular seen in months. The field left the barrier on an even line, but before they had reached the paddock turn Bon Homme drew out in front. Going into the drew out in front. Going into the backstretch he had a clear lead of a full length, with Thunderclap and Dennacona right back of him. Yellow Hand was last but running smoothly. Dennacona raced up to the leader on the far turn, and in the middle of the bend Thunderclap joined the first two. Making the bend for home Miller brought Yellow Hand up from the rear and when straightened out for the run home, the big Rossendale gelding passed the first two as though they were standing still and romped over the line a winner by a length and a half.

Thunderclap and Bon Homme had a real duel for the place, the former getting the verdict by a short head. Donnacona ran a very disappointing race and finished a poor last, five lengths back of Donnacona. Bon Homme surprised everybody by the way he hung on in the drive. It was expected that he would make the early running, but few thought he would last as long as he did.

R. Coe's promising colt Canyon, making his second appearance under calors, proved himself a youngster far above the ordinary by showing the way to fifteen maidens in the opening race. In his first start the other day he ran very green and just needed that race to give him the necessary education. He was off in motion, raced to the front in the first furlong and never left the result in doubt. After turning for home he drew away from his challenger and won well in hand by three lengths. Grandson, a 30 to 1 shot, beat Bullet a nose for second money.

Tufter, a greatly underestimated plater, captured the second event, a selling race for three-year-olds and upward over the mile and seventy yards route. Tufter has been running very consistently of late, but for some unknown reason he was quoted at 15 to 1 at times and closed at 12.

Whisk started out to make a runaway race of it and led the pack into the last furlong, where Tufter, which had been laying in second position most of the way, caught him and the two fought it out, Tufter passing the judges a winner by half a length. Light Rose closed with a rush and was beaten a like distance for the place.

The greatly improved Knight of the Heather earned another set of brackets when he defeated a good field of sprinters in the third, the Ramapo Highweight i Handicap, over the short six-furlong i course. Well ridden by Ponce, he was rated along in the bunch until the field turned for the run down the stretch. Then he came along, caught Knobbie, the pacemaker, and won as he pleased by three lengths. Knobbie finished sectord, the same distance before Dimmessiale.

A well played good thing, carried off the honors in the fifth. Off flying, he set a stiff pace all the way, but tired toward the end and just lasted long enough to win by a neck. Pickwick, the favorite, beat Scottish Chief a neck for second place.

Penitent furnished a real form reversal when she defeated a field of fairly good youngsters in the last race, a ly good youngsters in the last race, a five and a half furlong dash for two-year-old fillies. Saving ground on the home turn, she caught the leaders in the final furlong and won going away by a length. Mary Patricia, the tip of the race, was second, half a length in front of Emotion.

From Miss Leitch

"I have seen over here," writes Miss
Cecil Leitch, "many women with almost perfect swings, but who hit the ball as if they meant business." Again the criticism is justified.

Leading exceptions are Miss Hollins, Miss Stirling, Miss Collett, Mrs. Gavin and Mrs. Feitner.

A good swing, minus power, means very little. The conclusion of any good swing must carry that final flick or snap that drives the ball away. The mere sweep of the clubhead will not do this, however perfect the swinging form may be.

Miss Leitch herseif is a wonderful example of the correct application of power. She goes after the ball and she isn't afraid to hit it. Neither is Miss Glenna Collett, who promises to be one of the greatest women goifers of all time. MONDAY

These days, with a bite in the air

These days, with a bite in the air and chill winds sweeping over the courts, are not conducive to good tennis nor to enthusiastic and large galleries. Rather is it ideal football weather, and it is all the more remarkable therefore that the series of exhibition matches for the American Committee for Devastated France have attracted such notable galleries during the last few weeks and brought such really brilliant play.

Yesterday afternoon on the clay courts of the Jackson Heights, Elmhurst, William T. Tilden 2d, national and world champion; Vincent Richards, national junior singles and national senior doubles titleholder; Miss Leslie Bancroft, of the Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, and Miss Martha Bayard, of the West Side Tennis Club, played in men's singles, women's singles and mixed doubles for the benefit of Miss Anne Morgan's committee.

Special stands had been erected for the coasion and upward of 1,000 men and women sat about the courts while the lawn tennis "immortals" went through their paces. Although the sun had gone down some time before, the onlookers remained in their seats until the last point in the last match had been finished. It was too cold for comfort, but not too cold to watch first class tennis, in the opinion of the crowd.

Old Struggle Renewed

Tilden and Richards renewed their old struggle in the singles, and again it was the world's king of the courts who won, but his margin of victory was of the narrowest, the sets going at 7—5, 4—6, 6—4. Volley followed on brilliant volley, rare placement on rare placement. Tilden's ground strokes carried more speed and pace, while Richards earned at least an even break on volleying and placing. A dozen times the gallery was thrilled by scintillating sessions of play.

In the first two sets the high wind that swept the courts seemed to bother Tilden more than it did Richards. He was not able to make use of his dreaded bullet service with much success, but in the final set, with the gales subsiding, the champion scored irequently with tremendous service aces, and these gave him the winning edge.

Miss Bancroft was a bit too much for Miss Bayard in the one-set singles match they played, winning by a score of 7—5. The Boston girl was hitting the ball with more force, both off the ground and overhead, and about held the rown with Miss Bayard in the vollelying sessions.
